

Christmas Carolers Spread Holiday Cheer

Special thanks to Bill Schweinfurth and Melissa Avila for contributing this story

Residents at The Colony Mobilehome Park in Ventura were treated to a night of celebration and song by a group of Christmas carolers hoping to spread a little holiday cheer throughout the community.

The rainy weather did little to dampen the spirits of the 35 carolers who performed a variety of Christmas carols for their neighbors.

"We had so much fun and so did those who came to hear us," said resident manager Melissa Avila.

The event was extremely popular with the residents, many of whom joined the carolers after they had finished singing at their homes.

"We felt like a united community, and were thrilled to be able to spread a little Christmas cheer to the residents," said Melissa. "We will definitely be making this an annual event."

There are even plans to expand the Christmas caroling to include nearby nursing homes or one of Vedder Community Management's communities for residents aged 55 years and over. ■
